

Your total web-based solution for compliance and regulation research

The Food Regulation Suite is available on the Internet and is updated daily. Subscription to FRS includes e-mail alerts containing new information and access to the complete Federal Register back to 1991.

The job of regulating the production, processing, distribution and marketing of food in the United States is shared by an eclectic combination of government agencies, divisions of agencies and commissions. Figuring out, and keeping up with, the rules that apply to the different types of food products is a tough and time-consuming task. MediRegs' Food Regulation Suite is dedicated to helping those responsible for food compliance to navigate the complex web of regulatory materials issued by these various government entities and to stay on top of new developments.

Fast, powerful compliance and regulation searches

The Food Regulation Suite simplifies your daily work and makes it easy for you to implement and maintain compliance best practices.

- Easy, integrated searches across diverse agencies, sources and documents
- Logical organization by topic and product type
- Continuous, automatic updates
- Fast implementation

- Quick views of current information plus easy access to important archives
- Convenient alerts
- Familiar Web-based tools that your team can use immediately

Easy access to thousands of compliance and regulation rules and industry resources

The Food Regulation Suite gives you quick access to agency rules for food, compliance documents, and all other major industry resources.

- Legislation, Code of Federal Regulations and the Federal Register
- Manuals and guidelines
- Codex Alimentarius Commission information
- Warning letters, FTC complaints and other enforcement materials
- Diverse food libraries
- Packaging/labeling, claims, security, import/export, inspections
- Press releases, FOI logs and other late-breaking publications
- OIG and GAO reports

For more Information

Visit www.mediregs.com or Call 800-808-6800